TRAINING

There are many IT training institutes in Bangladesh that provides training on various courses. They respond to address issues related to low practical skills by providing professional and job oriented training courses. But the question still remains. Can training institute raise the students' levels by providing few weeks of training under the guidance of experts?

Thus along with the industry compliant syllabus, our teaching methodology makes computer training more effective.

Unlike other computer institutes, Synergy Interface Limited does not only focus on job oriented training.

Our syllabus is designed by professional who are both in academic field as well as in the development sector. Training is never self-sufficient for students who need extra guidance. Hence, we have started training programs where students are associated on real time problem solving capabilities. Our computer training programs which are totally based on practical approach will enable students to apply their theoretical knowledge in solving practical problems. The training methodologies applied at our computer institute are devised after a long experience in this area.

Our Main Trainings:

- 1. Web Design and Development
- 2. Graphics Design
- 3. Microcontroller
- 4. Hardware and Networking
- 5. Six Sigma
- 6. Basic computer training

And many more....

BULK SMS
